“Every bottle of shampoo we saw had ingredients we could not pronounce, and tons of artificial scents, preservatives and foaming agents. That's when we took matters into our own hands! Just like many other pet parents would say, our pup is our child. We wouldn't use just anything on her!

We developed our first shampoo, Barking at the Moon months later after research and input from professionals in the veterinary field. We gave some out for friends and family to try and they all loved it! That's when we knew -- we needed to help pups all around the world by creating natural, fresh handmade dog care products. “

-Make bath bombs with dog friendly products

-replaced the non-dog-friendly foaming agents and fragrances, and replaced them with natural alternatives and essentials oils to promote a healthy and fun bathing experience
